

The dream of a large, warm farmhouse kitchen, with the smell of freshly baked bread and the kettle singing on the hob, conjures up images of a solid fuel range, whose purpose is to provide warmth and cooking facilities. Now that dream can be a reality! Whether your home is old, or new, Franco Belge has just the answer with the Diva 22 and the Diva 29 solid fuel central heating cookers. From just one amazing solid fuel unit, you can enjoy real farmhouse cooking, gallons of hot water and central heating for the whole house.

Cooking with the Diva is a pleasure. The oven produces a slow even heat, keeping joints succulent, fruit cakes deliciously moist, and sponges light. The oven is large enough to take a 24lb turkey, and the warming cabinet gently heats croissants and rolls for breakfast! Lift the covers and the top becomes one large hotplate, big enough for several saucepans, plus a family coffee pot.

With a large family or small, constant hot water is a must. The Diva provides all the hot water you need, for washing up, baths and showers just when you want it.

For constant all round warmth the Diva can heat up to 15 radiators, giving wonderful whole house central heating that is thermostatically controlled and waste free.

The controls are conveniently sited and easy to operate. Loading is clean and simple from either the top or the front of the appliance.

The Diva has two multiposition oscillating and lifting grates allowing easy adjustment to facilitate the most efficient and economical heat output, and easy efficient riddling for all types of fuel.

Three loading positions - two at the top and one in the front make loading very easy.

If you use only wood in the Diva you are helping save the planet by using a Co² neutral source.
